how skin care can combat the loneliness epidemic

The “loneliness epidemic” refers to the growing public health crisis marked by widespread social isolation and feelings of loneliness. Today more than ever before, we’re aware that touch isn’t just comforting—it’s clinically proven to support emotional balance, help reduce stress, and foster connection.

Designed to be shared and nurture human connection, NeuroTouch Symmetry Serum bridges the gap between professional skin therapy and at-home care. Formulated with adaptogenic botanicals, a biomimetic hexapeptide, and CoQ10, this innovative facial sculpting oil harnesses the power of human touch to help restore facial symmetry and improve well-being.

beyond touch, a formula designed to improve well-being

Not only does NeuroTouch Symmetry Serum help visibly restore facial symmetry for a more sculpted appearance, it also utilizes the sculpting technique and an aromachological blend to help promote an improved sense of well-being. Powered by neuroscience and propelled by human touch, this lightweight, silky facial oil fosters connection between the people sharing it. Skin, the body’s largest sensory organ, plays a vital role in this equation. When stimulated, skin receptors send signals that trigger the release of neurochemicals like dopamine (known to lift mood), endorphins (commonly referred to as “natural stress-relievers”), and oxytocin (the bonding hormone that promotes calm and connection). Touch doesn’t just feel good—it helps us feel whole.

beyond the bottle: more than skin care

More than skin care, this is emotional care you can feel. Strategically designed from everything to its scent to its color, feel, and benefits – this innovative serum is at the cutting edge of skin care merging with self-care.

Infused with active ingredients like Bioengineered Bacillus Ferment, Biomimetic Botanicals, and a mood-elevating aromachology blend, this lightweight facial oil transforms a daily routine into an intentional, nourishing experience. In internal panels, partnered participants described their experience as “bonding,” “calming,” and “deeply grounding.”

Whether practiced solo or shared with a partner, NeuroTouch isn’t just skin care. It’s an antidote to disconnection—bringing the healing power of human touch home. In a world that feels more divided than ever, this small, intentional act may be one of the most powerful steps toward well-being.
